

Crossroads of Costume and Textiles in Poland

Proceedings of the ICOM Costume Committee meeting, Krakow, Poland 2003. Edited by Beata Biedronska-Słota and Monika Myszkievicz.. National Museum in Cracow and ICOM Costume Committee. Cracow, Poland. 2006.

Price: 5 Euros incl. postage. Contact: dystrybucja.wydawnictw@muz-nar.krakow.pl

Contents:

Foreword from the Director of the National Museum in Cracow

Presentation of the scope of the conference (Beata Biendrońska-Słota)

Joanna Marchner: Ceremonial dress. Great Britain meets Poland.

Katia Johansen: How Polish is Frederik III's 'Polish' garment.

Janina Poskrobko-Strzęciwilk: Polish kontusz sashes in the collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

June Swann: Crackows, poulaines and polony fashion.

Sandra L. Rosenbaum: Images of fashion: an image of France in the late seventeenth century.

Anne Marie Dahlberg: Polonica – the Polish collections of the Royal Armoury.

Maria Molenda & Marcin Sepiał: Tailor's books in Polish archives.

Agnieszka Bender: Liturgical vestments by Francois Glaize.

Anna Straszewska: The First Empire wedding dress. A study of two gowns from the collections of the National Museums in Warsaw and Krakow.

Anthea Bickley: Mrs Salt 'at home'.

Milena Vitkovic-Zikic: Balkan crosscoars in dress: the Serbian city costume.

Magdalena Braz Teixeira: The chitas from Alcobaça.

Ann Resare: Swedish shawls and kerchiefs and their relations to Polish textiles.

Aagot Noss: The transition of traditional folk dress to the bunad in West Telemark.

Irma Wallenborg: Transfer of a tent and knowledge from Poland to Sweden.

Mary M. Brooks: Forgotten fibres: fibres from unusual sources.