ICOM Costume Update ICOM General Conference & Costume Annual Conference Prague 2022

Dear ICOM Costume Friends and Members,
Please find in this message the latest news about 26th ICOM General Conference in Prague (20-28 August 2022):

Early bird registration has been extended until 30 May 2022.

You can find all registration information, conference and meetings venues and schedule by checking the conference website: <https://prague2022.icom.museum>

All speakers for Costume paper sessions and join session with the international committees Glass and ICDAD need to register as well.

Call for Posters should be announced by 25th May, those already accepted for the poster session should register also.

There is no extra conference fee for Costume conference and activities. Everything is included in the general conference fee without extra costs for participants (except for the post conference tour). Our committee as all other international committees is following the general conference program of events.

Our separate program is organised by our hosts in Prague at the Museum of Decorative Arts and ICOM General Conference organizers at the Congress Centre. Our colleague Konstantina Hlaváčková, exhibition's curator will present for our off site meeting on Thursday 25th 'The Power of Lace: Lace – Art – Garment'.

ICOM Costume will have its 60th Anniversary Ceremony at the French Cultural Institute in the centre of Prague on Thursday 25th August from 6 PM. This event is co-organised with the French Embassy in Czech Republic.

The excursion day is on Friday 26th August and it is recommended we all embark on the historical train to Brno. This excursion is included in the general conference fee.

Post conference tour is 1 day trip to Český Krúmlöv on Saturday 27th August. This post conference tour is a separate booking and a special ticket you'll have to purchase directly to us.

Attending ICOM General Conference offers a unique and efficient way for professional networking in the museum environment, very much looking forward to meeting you there.

More and updated information will be published on icom costume mini site as soon as we get updates.

Kind regards,

Corinne Thépaut-Cabasset
